CONTINUING LEGAL EDUCATION

February 15, 2021 CLE MARATHON

Virtual via Zoom

Earn up to 3.6 General & 1.2 Ethics CLE credit hours

Session One: 12pm - 1:00pm

“The Intersection of Ethics and Diversity” – ETHICS CREDITS -

William Singer, Esq., Singer & Fedun, LLC

Donna Legband, Esq., Altman, Legband & Mayrides

Michael Poreda, Esq., Wronko Loewen Benucci

As lawyers, we have made a commitment to respecting everyone equally. Often we are learning how to be culturally competent to properly represent people of different backgrounds. Occasionally, understanding diversity brings an ethical component. We will present various scenarios and ask for interaction with the participants. The issues posed do not necessarily have easy or right answers. Please be prepared to speak your mind.

This program has been submitted for approval by the Board on Continuing Legal Education of the Supreme Court of New Jersey for up to 1.2 ETHICS hours of total CLE credit.

Session Two: 1:15pm - 2:15pm

“Phishing, Whaling, and Spoofing in the Age of COVID-19: How to Decrease Your Chances of Being Targeted by Cybercriminals”

Rebecca Warren, Esq., Norris McLaughlin
Kelan Vorbach, Senior Insurance Broker at Pro Risk Group
Scott Kuperman, MCSE, CDIA+, CDC/CFC, Director of Sales Engineering at Team Logic IT

Cybercriminal activity has been increasing every year at an alarming rate. With the onset of COVID-19, and the American workforce shifting to remote work environments, cybercriminals have new opportunities to infiltrate networks, steal information, and disable systems. From individuals to large corporations, governmental entities to non-profits, no one is immune from a cyberattack. Gain insight on how to identify online scams and phishing schemes, increase awareness of disruptive malware and data harvesting malware, and avoid malicious domains. Join us to discuss preventative tools to decrease your chance of being the victim of an attack and learn appropriate responses in the unfortunate event of a cyberbreach or attack.
